

The Challenge That Challenges Me!

By Mark Edgemon

I dare! I dare to dream of what might be,
Of how I can change the vista of my existence.
With a single act, I can bring comfort
Or a word out of season, back off an enemy!

Writing is a blueprint of future acts,
To work out my fears and in my purpose.
I dare to hope when faith escapes me.
I am challenged to create the world I live in!
