

Prime Time

By Marla J. Deaton

You're in the prime of life
And you don't even know it.
You're older now
And starting to show it.

You're on a roll in your prime
And you think it'll never end,
Cause you got time
And it's your friend.

So cherish the now
Cause you don't know how
Easily it slips away,
Or how you may long for the day,

When you were in your prime.
